

KYLE VAUGHAN

Kyle Vaughan is a talented singer-songwriter and multi-instrumentalist. His lyrics are dynamic; some are autobiographical, some are stories and they all happen to find a way to beeline directly into your soul.

WATCH PATHS

Vaughan is originally from small-town Ontario and resides in Vancouver, BC. He has been playing music in some capacity for the majority of his young life. After a stint in the Ottawa hardcore band, At Arms, Kyle moved out west and became the driving force behind Vancouver's Year of the Wolf. He has since found his way to quirky, evocative folk-rock. The thoughtful musical arrangements fuse with clever lyrics to make something truly unique among the west coast folk scene.

HERE

Vaughan has completed work on his debut solo EP- "These Songs Were Recorded at The Rach, Vol 1.

The first single, Paths, was released in March to rave reviews and decent exposure.

The rest of the EP will be released in summer 2020.

Vaughan is heavily inspired by Matt Mays and the Cave Singers which is palpable in his highly emotional and instrumental music. He breaks your heart while melting your face; an excellent combo indeed.
